great, fun
Not quite as interesting as the variations, the original zig-zagging line still serves up fantastic variety of climbing at an easier grade.
- 110 ft (5.7) Start up the vertical hand crack up a dihedral to a small ledge. Follow the obvious large flake past 2 bolts to the large ledge. Traverse left to the start of the second pitch. Variations (5.8 and 5.9+) begin at the base of the vertical off-width / fist crack. Continue left for the original second pitch. Bring one or two pieces of 4' pro for the flake and place them carefully.
 - 90 ft (5.7) Follow the diagonal crack and ramp back to the right, passing under the roof and around to the right before traverse horizontally back left. Follow the fingers/hands splitter crack to the bolted anchor.
- Chains at the right of the large ledge above the first pitch allow you to top-rope the first pitch as well as the interesting face climbing just right of the first pitch. If top-roping the first pitch, use the last bolt as a redirect. Resist any temptation to belay the second pitch from these chains. Instead, traverse left and build an anchor before starting the second pitch. Descend in two rappels. The lip of the roof can snag a rope, so be careful when pulling the rope after the first rappel.
FFA: Eric Beck, Harry Smeenk, 1972
- 68 Rated X Variation 1 ★★ 190f Trad 2 bolts 5.8 ⅢⅢⅢⅢⅢⅢⅢⅢ
Instead of traversing all the way left, start the second pitch with the vertical off-width / fist crack, and then pick up the original route, avoiding the roof.

WOODFORDS CANYON AREA MAP

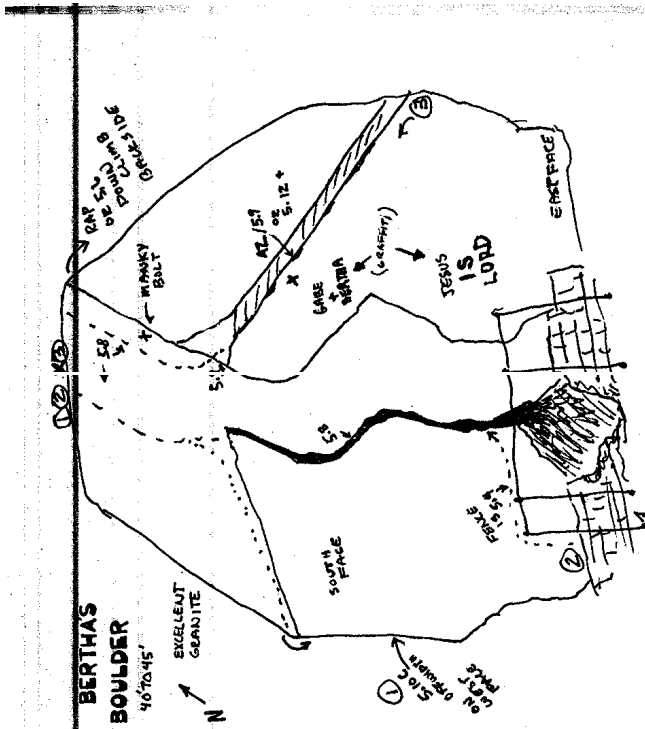

Here it is at last, the largest and most complete compilation of Woodfords Canyon routes known to man. As one will notice, the canyon has a wealth of very quality routes, as well as more route potential than on the rest of Tahoe combined! The climbing season runs all year-round with north facing routes in the summer and south facing warm rock in the winter. Approaches vary, but most are not as lengthy as one would suspect. The longest approach is to the fortress and takes about 30+ minutes but one is rewarded with a commanding view and quality routes, so it's definitely worth it!

The following is just some of the folks who have been active in the canyon:

OTHER WOODFORDS CANYON ROUTES

- In the 70's 5.8/5.9 Beautiful fist crack with perfectly spaced knobs, 50' in length. Located on a small obscure crag 2.3 miles up from Woodfords intersection. It faces south and sits above the river just behind a small rise and pine trees. The crag is about 100' wide and 50' tall and this is the only known route on it. F.A. R. Anderson/C. Jobst 79 Pro to 3/27.
- "Suicide Falls Left" 5.9(R) F.A. R. Anderson/C. Jobst 79 330' long. To the north and slightly west of the Woodfords store are 2 diamond shaped faces ranging up to 400' in height. Approach from the east side of the drainage coming down from the crag. On the left hand face, scramble up broken, bushy rock for about a 100' to a tree near the middle of the face. 5.8(R) face climbing leads along a deep prominent crack system to a small stance at the cracks top. Climb up a corner to an easy chimney, belay 50' higher. The crux pitch goes up right to an offwidth crack with a chockstone overhanging at its top. Belay on broken rock and scramble 50' to summit.
- "The Flying Block" 5.10(R) F.A. R. Anderson/C. Jobst 80 450' long. This route lies on the righthand face, 100' right of the waterfall. Scramble up broken rock to the rope-up point at a small pine tree 100' of broken 5.5 rock leads to a grassy ledge with a larger pine. The crux pitch goes straight up the vertical wall above. Several thin grooves and hard mantles (near top) leads to a large easy flake, belay below the flake meets a small corner. Climb up right then back left in cracks to a belay beneath a bulge. Jam 3.7 up to the right side of the bulge to a ramp leading up and right to the final short headwall. Belay 40' higher on the broken summit area.
- "Behah the Pompey" 5.7(R) F.A. R. Anderson, Jobs/D. Everett 79 375' long. The start lies 300' right of the waterfall. Wander up an easy face to a small corner, belay at top. Next, climb up right to a small tree, then up a crack to belay at a large pine. The next pitch climbs up a large friction ramp with no protrusion for 50' until an easy chimney is reached, belay 40' higher at the base of the short final headwall. Climb up easy cracks to the top.
- UNKNOWN 5.11+ F.A. Paul Crawford 2 pitches. Climb the orange wall above the apron going through the most obvious roof in the center of the face.

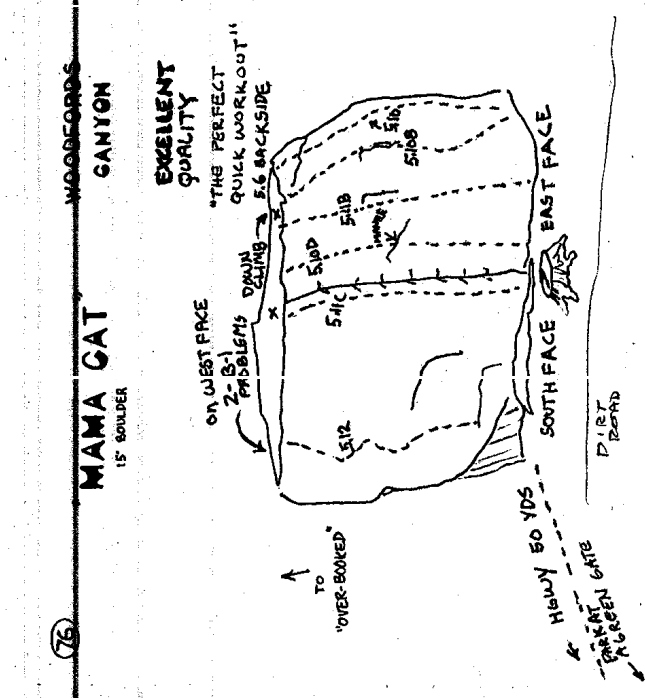

NOTE:
 CAL-TRANS HAS INSTALLED THIS FENCE TO PREVENT FURTHER DAMAGE TO THE RETAINING WALL WHICH WAS DONE BY CLIMBERS TO GAIN ACCESS TO A ROSE PROBLEM INSIDE. FURTHER DAMAGE WILL RESULT IN LOST ACCESS TO THE WHOLE ROCK!!

On the west face is a slightly over-hanging off width which leads up to the easy face finish. 5.10C pro to 5" ***

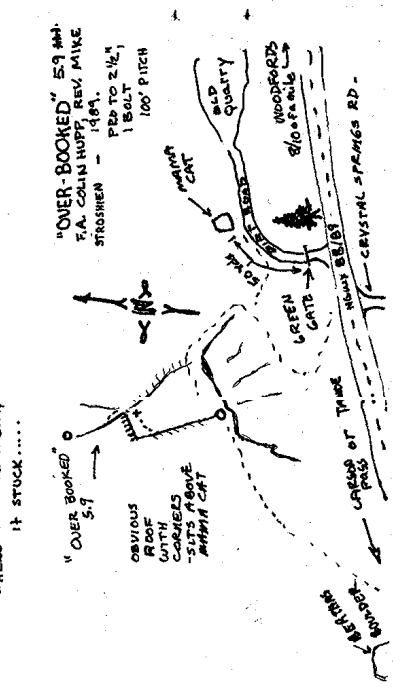

On the road-face, a 5.8 jam above the fence to the face. pro to 5" ***

SOUTH FACE

- 1) "JAMMIN ME" 5.11C/D  FA-Ron Anderson, 10/1990. This is the striking crack to the left side of the south face on the sloped terrace. The crack is a clean parallel and slightly flared Yosemite-like in looks. About 20 feet of sustained jams lead to an easy reach to the right. Belay a few feet higher. pro cams to 21/2 friend.
- 2) "DON'T LET ME DOWN" 5.7-A3 * PA-Chuck Jobst and Ron Anderson, 1/1980. At 50 feet right of route 1 an easy corner leads up to an overhanging crack going up a blocky arete. A3 expando nailing and cams go up the crack and finish with a desperate mantle to a ledge on the left. This route could and maybe has, gone free. pro to 1" and pins to 1".
- 3) "FREEZER BOX" 5.9  FA-Unknown. This is the obvious off width chimney near the right side of the south face. Cracks inside the chimney help protect. Emerge from the top of the chimney and finish up a 15 foot face. Belay from 4th class ledges. pro to 2".
- 4) ---- 5.7 * FA-Unknown. This is the short corner just left of "Freezer Box". Climb the corner past a few bushes and belay on same stance as "Freezer Box" pro to 1 1/2".
- 5) ---- 5.10B/C  FA-Unknown. This is the thin flake just right of "Freezer Box". The flake which is clean, is some jamming, lie-backs and under-clings and is a bit difficult to protect.

THE APRON
ROUTE DESCRIPTIONS

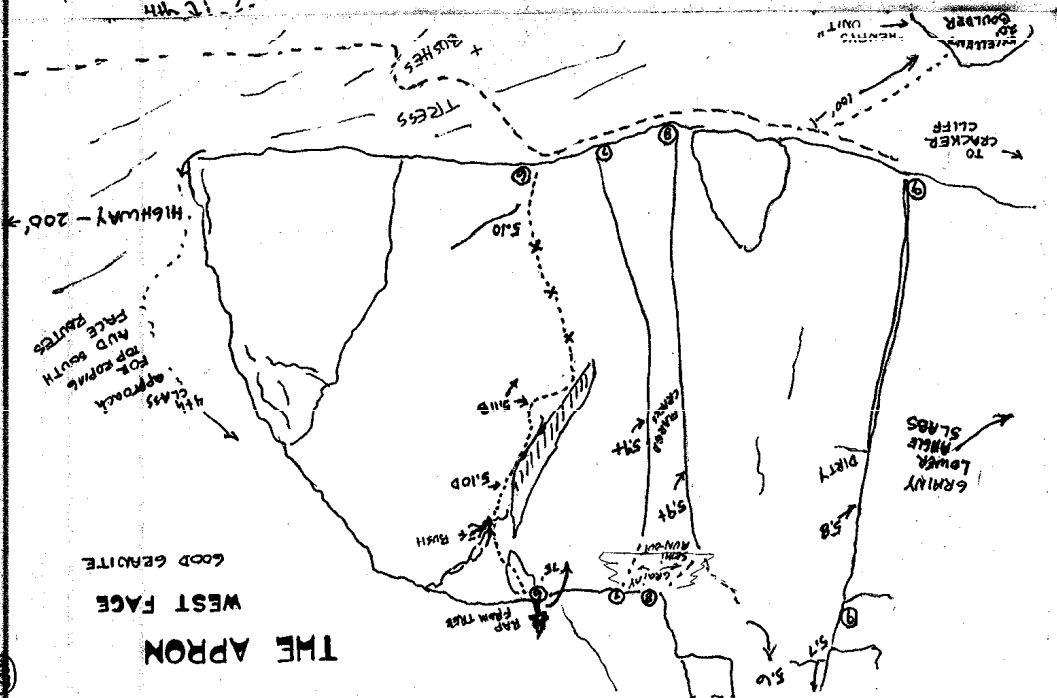

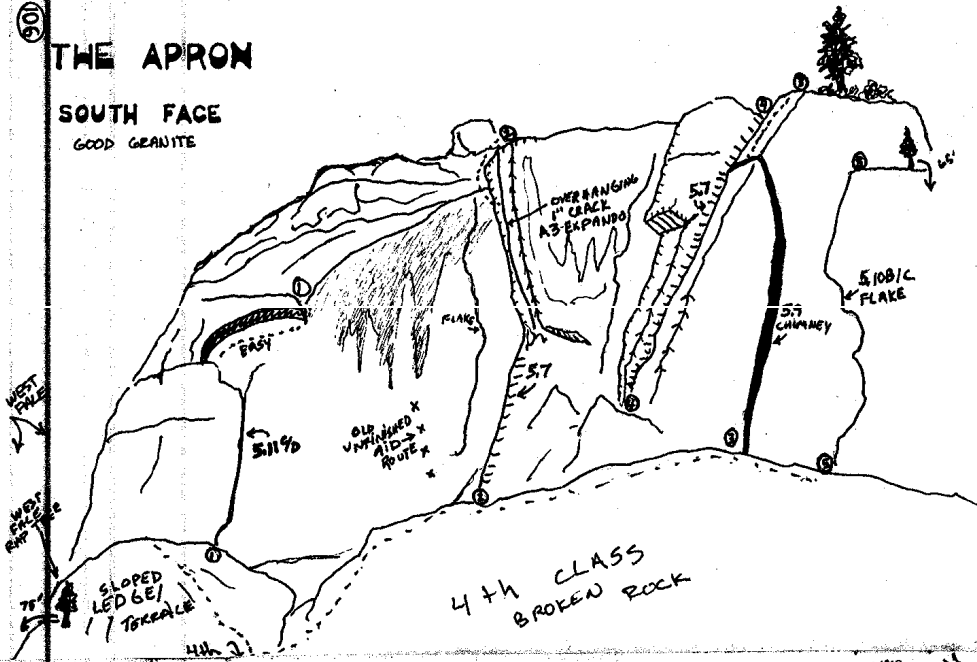

WEST FACE

- 6) "WEST WALL ROUTE" 5.11B  FA-Unknown. This fine route ascends the slab face on the right side of the west face. After a hard start, easier face climbing leads up past the third bolt to a shallow left leaning corner. Hard 5.10, then 5.11B moves the lead along the corner. There are 2 TCU placements in the corner before you reach the bush, which is tied off to protect the final 15 feet. Belay at the small fine which is bomber. pro 2-#2 TCUS, 1 tie off sling and 3 draws.
- 7) ---- 5.9  FA-Unknown. pro to 3"
- 8) ----On the left side of the "West Wall", are two cracks that are slightly flared. Both cracks end with a few face moves to the sloping terrace and pine tree anchor. Both are equal in difficulty.
- 9) ---- 5.8 PA-Chuck Jobst 78. On the left side of the west face, near some low angle slabs is a dirty slot. 5.8 climbing leads up the slot passing a bulge 100 feet up. Belay on 4th class ledges and the descent is down a gully to the north.
"HENRY'S UNIT"
